

To Whom It May Concern:

I highly recommend Rodman Browning for any web design or web development position you may be considering him for. Rodman worked for me while I was President of Business Communication Solutions. During the time we worked together he made a huge impact on our company's branding. He built our company website, gave us a much more professional look, as well as built many of our customer's sites as well.

As web developer Rodman revamped our look, content, and optimized our site for Google and other search engines. In the first year traffic to our site grew 40% per month. Likewise, prospective business contacts from our website grew from 4 to 25 per month in the same time frame.

In addition to having excellent Webmaster skills, Rodman has been a great team player. He is always ready to jump in anywhere we need help.

If you would like any more information about Rodman, please feel free to contact me.
